St. Paul Senior has been selected by TED-Ed Team for Publication

Bristol CT, March 26, 2024 – St. Paul Catholic High School is pleased to announce that the TED talk by senior Brianna Wood, "How I Learned to Lead by Creating My Definition of Leadership", has been selected by the TED-Ed team for publication on their international student channel.

TED-Ed reviewers selected Brianna's talk from over 500 talks submitted from over 130 countries. Less than 100 of these submissions were selected for publication in the Great Ideas Quest of 2023. A broadcast of her presentation can be viewed on the TED-Ed Student Talks YouTube channel at <https://youtu.be/GcOZKdVE92o>.

In 2022, at the start of Brianna's junior year, she and Mrs. Mary Clarke, St. Paul Math teacher, and TED-Ed Team advisor, worked to earn St. Paul a spot as a registered TED-Ed school. The TED-Ed Student Talks program aims to support students in identifying, developing, and sharing their ideas with the international community. Through the TED-Ed program, students develop 21st-century skills and are better prepared to advocate for issues important to them now and in the future.

Congratulations to our TED-Ed Great Idea Winner, Brianna Wood!
